Gaye Fifer

calling to the music of

The Great Bear Trio

Teenage brothers Andrew and Noah VanNorstrand on fiddle, guitar, mandolin, didgeridoo, djembe, etc.
and mother Kim on piano

Gaye Fifer, from Charlottesville, VA has been a caller and teacher at almost every dance weekend in the eastern US. She delights dancers with her clear walk-throughs and smooth-flowing contras. Gaye and partner Wayne Albright also teach enchanting waltz workshops. With their engaging and entertaining style, they teach moves to really get dancers connecting with each other and the music.

The Great Bear Trio is an exciting and energetic family band from Fulton, NY, performing a unique blend of Celtic, French-Canadian, Scandinavian and Appalachian music. Andrew often takes the lead on fiddle or nyckelharpa (Swedish keyed-fiddle) as well as playing accompaniment on guitar, bouzouki and banjo. Noah is also a gifted fiddler and mandolin player but he adds a powerful groove to Great Bear on an assortment of world-beat percussion instruments including the African djembe and the Australian didgeridoo. The boys are joined by their mother Kim, playing a solid and inventive style of piano all her own. They were the headliners at the 2005 Dance Flurry weekend in Saratoga Springs, NY.
