

Application for General Skilled Migration to Australia

Important

Before completing this form, you should read the detailed requirements in the booklet General Skilled Migration.

Also read the following instructions carefully.

Please note that this is not an employment application form to send to an employer or a skills assessment form to send to a skills assessing authority.

Before filling in the form

Make sure you have all the required documents.

Make sure you have read the booklet General Skilled Migration and followed all the instructions in the 'Preparing for your application' boxes relevant to the visa class for which you are applying.

If your spouse is also being assessed, make sure you have all the documents relating to your spouse's point score and/or ability to meet the basic requirements.

If you are being sponsored, you should have received a completed form 40 - Sponsorship for Migration to Australia from your sponsor and form 28 Assurance of Support from your assurer. (The sponsor and assurer need not be the same person).

Making a valid application

To make a valid application you must:

- ♦ use this form (provided in the booklet or available from any Australian mission)
- ♦ indicate the correct class of visa by selecting the type of application in Part A of the application form
- ♦ include a skills assessment from the relevant assessing authority for your nominated occupation. Your occupation must be on the Skilled Occupation List.
- ♦ pay the required charge, and
- ♦ send or deliver your application to the Australian mission overseas. Attach any documentation you are required to provide with your application (this includes a skills assessment).

You must also:

- ♦ complete the form in English
- ♦ answer all questions truthfully, and
- ♦ provide supporting documents where necessary.

If you provide incorrect information or documents, this may affect whether you are granted a visa or not, or your visa may be subsequently cancelled.

Read the notes on each question. If a question is not applicable, write 'N/A'. Any changes or corrections you make must be initialled and dated by each person who signs the form. If you use the page provided in the form or any other sheets of paper for additional information, each must also be signed and dated by all persons who sign the form.

Who the form covers

The application form covers a family unit, namely a main applicant and, if applicable, spouse and dependants.

If you have a spouse, consider which of you is most likely to meet visa requirements before filling in the form. That person should be the main applicant and complete Part B of the form 'Your details'.

If you are being sponsored, the family member whose relative in Australia is sponsoring you must complete Part B and Question 53 as the main applicant.

Dependent children

A dependent child may be your natural child, adopted child or step child. 'Step child' means a natural or adopted child of your current spouse or a natural or adopted child of your former spouse where the child is under 18 and you have a legal responsibility to care for them (for example, where your former spouse is deceased and you have legal custody of the child). You will need to provide a certified copy of the overseas or Australian court order which you have in relation to the child.

A child of any age is not considered dependent if he or she is married or in a de facto/common law relationship or is engaged to be married.

A child 18 or over will not be considered dependent unless you can show that they are wholly or substantially reliant on you for financial support for their basic needs of food, shelter and clothing. You must also show that you have provided that support for a substantial period and that the child is more reliant on you than on any other person or source. Unless you can provide evidence of this, they should apply separately. You should also be aware that a child aged 25 or over will generally not be considered dependent.

Children of any age who have a total or partial loss of bodily or mental functions which stops them earning a living are regarded as dependent and part of the family unit (whether or not they migrate with you). Give details of such children and whether they are in your care or in an institution.

In all cases you should attach evidence of your child's dependency on you.

Other dependants

You may include other relatives in your application if they are wholly or substantially reliant on you for financial support for their basic needs of food, shelter and clothing and they have been reliant on you for that support for a substantial period. They must also be more reliant on you for support than on any other person or source.

A relative may also be considered dependent on you if they are reliant on you for financial support because they have a mental or physical disability which stops them from earning a living to support themselves.

Other relatives dependent on you or your spouse may include, for example, an aged, unmarried relative.

If you have dependants who are 18 years of age or over, please obtain a form 47A Details of child or other dependent family member aged 18 years or over. A form 47A must be completed for each dependant 18 or older, whether migrating or not.

Custody requirement

The Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs (DIMA) will seek to ensure that allowing a child to migrate is not in contravention of Australia's international obligations in relation to the prevention of child abduction. If your application includes a child under 18 and the child's other parent is not migrating with you or there is any other person who has the legal right to determine where the child can live, you will need to provide a Statutory Declaration from each of them giving permission for the child to migrate. Alternatively, you can provide a certified copy of a valid court order showing that you/your spouse has the legal right to remove the child from the country.

Supporting documents

The documents you must provide are listed in Part J of your application. Enclose all documents with your application. You may be asked to provide other documents during processing.

'Certified copies' of documents mean copies authorised or stamped as being true copies of originals by a person or agency recognised by the law of your country. In Australia, they must be certified by a Justice of the Peace or Commissioner for Declarations or by a person before whom a statutory declaration may be made.

All documents not in English must be accompanied by a certified English translation of the original. You may be asked to provide the originals of your documents at a later stage. Do not provide originals unless you are asked.

About the information you give

DIMA is authorised to collect information provided on this form under Part 2 of the Migration Act 1958: 'Control of Arrival and Presence of Non-Citizens'. The information provided will be used for assessing your eligibility for a visa to travel, enter and remain in Australia and for other purposes relating to the administration of the Migration Act, for example, to assist migrants with settling in Australia or for ensuring compliance with the Migration Act.

The information provided might also be disclosed to agencies who are authorised to receive information relating to adoption, border control, business skills, citizenship, education, health assessment, health insurance, health services, law enforcement, payment of pensions and benefits, taxation and review of decisions.

You should read the information form 993i Safeguarding Your Personal Information, which is available from your nearest DIMA office, or from where you collected this form, so that you can be better informed about the agencies to which your personal information might be disclosed.

The Privacy Act 1988 is the key law designed to safeguard personal information collected by government agencies. The information privacy principles in the Privacy Act must be obeyed by federal government agencies, including DIMA, when gathering, processing and disclosing information about you.

The Freedom of Information Act 1982 also relates to your personal information. Under this Act you can apply for access to documents containing your personal information. You or someone authorised to access information on your behalf can apply to do this at any DIMA office in Australia and pay a fee. If you are overseas, you must also provide the Australian mission overseas with an address in Australia to which copies of personal records can be sent. More information on how to make a request under the Freedom of Information Act is given on the form 424 Request for access to documents.

101 ACKNOWLEDGEMENT REGARDING SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS

This acknowledgement must be signed by the main applicant and each accompanying person over 16.

Signature of main applicant

I understand that if granted a visa:

- ♦ there is a TWO YEAR wait for social security payments, including unemployment benefits, for most newly arrived migrants;
- ♦ I will need to have enough money, even if unemployed, to support myself for the first two years and if I run out of money or fail to get a job in that period, that would not be sufficient reason to make me eligible for social security income support payments;
- ♦ the cost of living in Australia, compared to many other countries, is high. As a guide, it is estimated that in 1998, households of migrants who had lived in Australia for less than two years spent an average of $700 per week. The average household size for recent migrants is two to three people;
- ♦ approval to migrate does not guarantee employment in Australia and that it is entirely my own responsibility to secure employment after arrival, including investigating my prospects before I arrive in Australia;
- ♦ work availability varies significantly from time to time in different parts of Australia and that for many jobs in Australia, applicants must be eligible for membership of a professional or industry organisation and/or be able to be registered or licensed with an Australian state authority before working in a particular occupation.
