

SHORT C.V. Professor Stephen Emery

Stephen Emery has worked as a civil engineer in consulting, research, contracting, public sector, and an academic. He is currently a director of Kubu Australia. Stephen graduated from the University of NSW in 1975. He did his PhD at University of Witwatersrand on pavements. He returned to Australia and worked as a consulting engineer in Western Australia. He has held the Chair in Asphalt Pavement Engineering at Stellenbosch University in South Africa, and is currently teaching at CPEE and University of Witwatersrand. He is involved in research, design and rehabilitation, and forensic investigations of airports and roads.